The ministers of Milam County met in the Milam Coffee Shop Monday morning, October 26, to consider a county-wide cotton so-....licitating program for the Christian Rural Overseas Program.

The cotton, approximately 400 bales from all over the state, will be shipped to the Orient from the Houston port on January 12, 1954. Other commodities shipped will be 20 carloads of rice, 2 carloads of milo, 2 carloads of flour and 1,500 bolts of unbleached domestic.

A quota of 15 bales has been set in Milam County, with the deadline being November 16. A dedication service will be held on November 16 on the lawn of All Saints Episcopal Church. Dr. Dan Russell of Texas A&M College, who accompanied the August CROP shipment to Europe, will be the principal speaker.

It was announced that Milam County recently donated 1,800 pounds of maize, which was sent to Europe. Albert Petrich of Ben Arnold spearheaded the drive.

The people who do not have cotton to give and would like to give cash, are asked to leave it with their pastor, or deposit it with the Citizens National Bank in Cameron. The money will be used to buy cotton in the county for the program.

W. R. Poage Speaks To Fifty Supporters At Country Club

Representative W. R. Poage spoke Monday night to a group of supporters who had gathered for a dinner in his honor at the Cameron Country Club.

Poage spent his whole time speaking on the complaint of the cattle men. He blamed the present situation on four things, the drought, buyers resistance, fear and the timidity of the present administration, especially Secretary of Agriculture, Benson.

Poage vigorously defended the higher prices of cattle in the past. He pointed out that during the past period of 1909 to 1914, which he stated was the last 5-year period in which there was an absolute free market in the United States without controls, the average factory worker was able to buy nine tenths of pound of beef with the returns from one hour's labor. He stated that when beef was at its highest price the average factory worker could buy one and one-half pounds of beef with with the returns from one hour's labor.

He also vigorously defended agricultural price supports. He pointed out that at present, the government is giving more support to business than to agriculture and named several examples, such low postal rates for newspapers.

In answer to a question from one of the 50 men present, Poage took great pain to explain why he felt that buying cattle on the hoof was not the most desirable way for the government to help the plight of the rancher. He pointed out that if they bought cattle on the hoof, the government would have to go into the packing business. He did, however, have his own answer to the problem. He stated that the agricultural committee, specifically the subcommittee on livestock, submitted a recommendation to Secretary of Agriculture Benson that the government require the regular meat packers to sign affidavits swearing that they would make no more than a normal margin of profit on any canned meats sold to the government, and if, then, the packers refuse to do so, then the government should buy cattle on te hoof, and attempt to pack them in plants leased for that purpose.

A-2C Alton Logan and Bill Randell have spent the past ten days visiting in the home of A-2C Logan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Logan. A-2C Logan and A-C2 Randell are stationed at Pope AFB, Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

First Baptist Church Launches Financial Campaign This Week

The local First Baptist Church launched a dept-paying and building fund campaign Sunday, according to an announcement by Rev. A. F. Russell, pastor.

Due to the large increase in the Sunday School and other organizations the present educational building facilities are not adequate to accommadate the crowds. Recognizing the need for a building program in the near future, to provide for this growth, the church is seeking to pay off all existing financial obligations and begin a building fund. A minimum of $11,600.00 will be sought during the week October 25-November 1, 1953.

Rev. Russell stated that the Sunday School enrollment at First Baptist has reached an all time high. The average attendance each Sunday last year also exceeded all previous records. Nearly four hundred are attending every Sunday at the present time.

During the past year the First Baptist Church completed a $20,000.000 parsonage, renovated many of the class rooms in its present educational building and added several thousand dollars worth of new equipment.

District 23-AA Game

Cameron Yoemen Crush Winless Taylor Ducks 53-6

The Cameron Yoemen came tearing back after taking three straight defeats and stomped the Taylor Ducks Friday night, 53-6, in one of the worst routs of the season to open District 23-AA play.

Sensational blocking, made way for the Cameron backs to gain long runs and completely stun the Taylor eleven.

The Ducks started taking the terrific loss right from the start. After receiving the kickoff, the Ducks were forced to punt from their own 39. Jimmy Rettig took it on the Cameron 31-yard line and with the help of the Cameron line, scampered all the way to score.

Only one minute and 26 seconds had elapsed. Junior Zotz' try for the extra point was good.

The Ducks were unable to penetrate beyond the 50 yard line until the last play of the first quarter.

This was after Rettig had scored again from the Taylor 20 yard line on a reverse over left tackle and Zotz had kicked another extra point.

A minute and two seconds deep in the second quarter, the Yoemen scored again on a beautiful pass play. Arnold Warren threw from his own 28, connecting with Charles Eanes on the Duck 20. Eanes raced the rest of the way to paydirt after shaking off two would-be tacklers.

Zotz kicked his third extra point.

Cameron scored again about mid-way in the second quarter to climax a drive which started on their own 42.

Warren, Rettig and Joe Heitmann shared ball carrying duties. Warren scored on a keeper from the 19-yard line. Zotz' extra point try was good.

The half ended with Cameron leading the Ducks, 28-0, and with the Yoemen having possession of the ball on their own 29 yard line.

The Yoemen came roaring back during the third quarter, and scored twice more, and almost three times.

With beautiful blocking and tackling of the Cameron line, Rettig and W. K. Leonard were able to gain long runs which set up one of the TDs. Rettig went from his 42 to the Duck 23, W. K. Leonard from there to the Taylor two. Leonard carried to the one-foot line and Rettig plowed over on the next play. Zotz, with his educated toe, kicked his fifth and last extra point of the night.

The second TD of the third quarter was set up by an interception by Leonard of a Bobby Plowman pass on the Cameron 42. He carried to the 33-yard line before being hauled in.

From there Kenneth Cryer moved to the 26, Joe Michalka lost a couple. Joe Heitmann then raced over tackle and shook loose on the 25-yard line and behind a beautiful block by Leonard and scored, going all the way.

The Yoemen scored again only eight plays deep in the final period. Rettig intercepted a pass in midfield to set up the touchdown.

Michalka passed to Albert Mondrik to the 28-yard line, three plays moved the ball to the 15 and from there Cryer carried over. Michalka missed the point try.

Taylor made its lone touchdown about midway of the final period. The Ducks moved from the Cameron 35 and Plowman passed to Leonard Gilleland on the 20 and he carried eleven more on the ground to the Yoemen nine.

Bobby Braun moved to the three, then to the two and Plowman rammed over. Larry Ridell's kick was no good.

The final TD of the game was set up by Buddy Thompson when he intercepted a Plowman pass. Cryer carried across for the score. Michalka's try for the extra point was blocked by the entire Taylor line.

Wayne Kropp and Wallace Seggern were Taylor's top defensive players. The entire Cameron team stood out.

Community Chest Campaign Started

By Robert B. Abel

The 1953 Community Chest campaign is now under way and soon you will be asked to contribute because your help is urgently needed. When you are asked to give, remember that each dollar you donate to the Community Chest goes further. There are no salaries paid to Community Chest Workers. Collection and accounting are done by volunteers allowing the maximum amount of contributions to be spent for the cause they are intended. Each Community Chest agency works in Cameron and Milam County, so the people you help are your neighbors and members of your community.

When you give, you are helping people less fortunate than yourself. You are helping hundreds of boys and girls to learn to be better citizens through the character building agencies. You are helping people to receive medical attention, which they otherwise could not afford. You are providing temporary assistance food, shelter and clothing for people until they can find jobs and return to work. You are providing milk to build sound bodies and minds for the future citizens of Cameron.

This year, in spite of rising costs, the Community Chest's quota has been set at $5,000—the same amount as last year. This was done by cutting agencies' requests to an absolute minimum, but it means that the quota must be reached if the agencies are to carry on their work.

In planning the amount of your gift, remember how greatly it is needed and remember also how much good it will do. You only gie once a year, so please give enough. Help show the community spirit of Cameron by letting every one know that you care enough to share.

Postmaster Gives Christmas Overseas Mailing Advice

Postmaster John R. Hays today compared October in the Post Office to what Spring training is to a baseball team.

"We're already flexing our muscles, swearing in extra employees and getting ready for the Christmas rush hours," he said.

Parcel post for armed service personnel in Korea, Japan and the Pacific Islands should be mailed by November 1. Articles addressed to Europe or American posessions should be mailed before November 15.

Christmas cards may be sent by air mail as late as December 1. However, all overseas Christmas cards bearing three-cent stamps should be mailed by November 15.

The Postmaster also pointed out:

(1) Air parcels for overseas are limited to two pounds, and 70 lbs. for regular parcel post rates. Packages may not exceed 100 inches in combined length and girth.

(2) Don't mail perishable items. Matches and lighter fluid are forbidden. Expensive gifts should be sent by registered mail.

(3) Select a durable mailing carton of wood, metal or fiberboard. Line it with newspapers to cushion any shock. Use a heavy wrapping paper and strong cord to prevent parcels breaking open.

"It's particularly important," the Postmaster continued, "that an overseas address be correct and easy to read.

To avoid any delay in delivery, Postmaster Hays recommends that you hand-print the full address.

Labels frequently fall off when exposed to moisture, so print directly on the wrapping paper. Include your return address. Repeat them both inside on the mailing carton. It's also a good idea to enclose a list of contents.

In spelling out the do's and don'ts of his overseas program, Postmaster Hays feels that the best advice is, "Big or small, mail them all—now!"

Last year, he recalls, one-half million pieces of mail were canceled by the local Post Office between December 1-25. This year an even heavier volume is expected.

Boy Scouts Benefit Through Your Donation To Community Chest

Robert D. Abel

When you give to the Cameron Community Chest, 24% of your donation goes to the Boy Scouts. This organization presents character building and citizenship training for boys from ages 8 to 18. The primary aim of the scouts is to build leadership and moral and physical qualities in its young members.

Boy Scouts learn to ". . . do my duty to God and country . . ." and this is the firm foundation for scouting which also teaches love of nature self reliance and initiative.

The Heart of Texas Council, which organizes scouting in this area, gives guidance to sponsoring organizations, such as churches, schools and civic clubs. It gives training to scout leaders and stimulates interest in scouting. The Council also maintains an excellent summer camp, Camp Tohuaya at Belton, Texas. Here scouts attend camp each summer to pass boy scout work, make lifelong friendships, and enjoy healthful outdoor life.

In Cameron there are 6 cub scouts' dens, 3 Boy Scouts troops, and one explorer post which brings scout work to approximately 120 boys. You help to build the morals, initiative, and appreciation of fair play in the future citizens of Cameron and America when you give to the Boy Scouts through the Cameron Community Chest. Please give enough.

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER CLAIMS HE'S AHEAD of INDUSTRIAL CITIES, HIS OPERATIONS ALREADY DISPERSED

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm at Marlow has completely misinterpreted the latest defense ideas, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editar:

I've noticed in nearly every newspaper that turns up out here lately there's a lot of discussion once more over the atom bomb and how many cities in the United States are vulnerable to attack.

As I understand it, the experts have figured out there are 87 American cities important enough to bomb in case an enemy decides on a sneak attack, which only goes to show the goal of most towns to get bigger and bigger is not necessarily the safest goal you can have. When the bigger a city gets the more it becomes a prospective target, there's some argument to my contention that backwardness has its place these days too.

But what has interested me about the discussion over the 87 cities is that the experts are arguin they're got to be dispersed, they've got to scatter their vital industries out in the country, to cut down on their chances of gettin hit all at the same time.

I think this is a good idea and I'm proud to report that while my farm ain't exactly what you might call a primary target, I'm not takin any chances and I have already dispersed my operations.

For example, instead of bringin my planter back to the shed after I got through plantin last spring, I left it the turnrow. I got my bedders over in another field, I got my trailer pretty well dispersed, one wheel fell off the last time I used it and I dragged it in on the axle. Some people have gotten in the habit of assumin my operations are based on laziness, but what it amounts to is farsightedness. I'm in the forefront, it's purely a defensive measure. Not only are the implements scattered all over the farm, they're pretty well camoflaged, covered up in weeds and rusted to keep the sun from glintin on em. In fact, I've even got my fences in such shape I can disperse my cattle on a moment's notice without usin a gate. Just cut one or two pieces of bailin wire and the way is clear.

I tell you, cities could learn a lesson from my farmin operations. What most people have considered the height ef laziness and backwardness has turned out to be in the forefront of modern thuoght.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Declining Agricultural Exports Pose Grave Problem For Farmers

The agricultural export situation is likely to be given serious consideration when farmer delegates convene Nov. 9-11 in Mineral Wells for the 20th annual convention of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation.

Declining agricultural exports pose a grave problem for producers of certain commodities. Growers of some of the basic commodities, including cotton and wheat, are hardest hit by the loss of foreign markets. Two years ago exports accounted for 51.2 per cent of the cotton crop and 46.7 per cent of the wheat crop. In that same year the production from one out of every ten acres found outlets outside the United States.

But this market is rapidly shrinking. Agricultural exports from the United States declined 31 per cent in value last year, to the lowest point since 1944-45, according to figures recently released by U. S. Department of Agriculture. At the same time, the nation's non-agricultural products shipped abroad rose in value.

Several reasons have been given for the decline, including: the reduction in direct foreign economic aid by this country; improved farm production in areas fostered by the U. S.; inventory reduction in direct foreign ecotries in response to eased world-supply situations.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, commenting on the downward trend in farm exports, said, "Our declining export situation points up sharply our need for more effective farm programs and for foreign trade policies that will not only assure the U. S. farmer good markets at home, but which will widen his markets abroad."

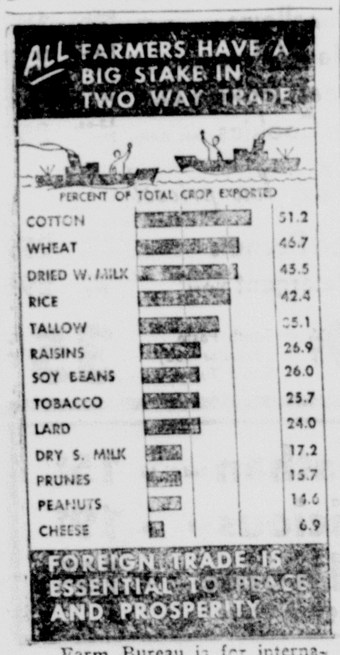
The major farm organizations are attempting to find a solution to the export decline which threatens the whole farming industry. The American Farm Bureau Federation, which has a membership of 1,600,000 farm families in 47 states and Puerto Rico, has initiated action on several fronts to bring about an increase in exports.

The Farm Bureau was largely responsible for getting Congress to set up a bi-patisan trade commission last session to review the whole field of international trade. The commission's report, to be given when Congress convenes in January, is in getting the Reciprocal Trade present trade policy.

Farm Bureau was instrumental in getting the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act extended until next year. This act permits the President to negotiate separate trade treaties with various countries.

The national farm organization was able to help eliminate Section 104 of the Defense Production Act. This section of the act was causing retalitory measures by other countries to the detriment of U. S. trade and prestige.

The Farm Bureau was primarily responsible for adoption by Congress last session of a plan whereby the U. S. would accept the national currencies of the free nations of the world in return for surplus agricultural commodities. The foreign money collected would to used to carry out our commitments under the Mutual Security Administration.



Farm Bureau is for international cooperation on a sound basis of two-way trade. Farmers must have customers to sell agricultural products, both here and abroad. The production from one out of every ten acres found outlets outside of the United States in 1951. But this market is shrinking. If this market is lost permanently, net farm income will be lowered. Farm Bureau is asking Congress to set up a bi-partisan commission to help solve foreign export problems. Already a number of Farm Bureau recommendations related to foreign trade have been approved by Congress.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

It's the Principal of the Thing!

Every autumn our High School has a contest to see who can get the most ads for The Recorder—the school magazine. The winner becomes honorary Principal for a day.

Skip Roberts won last week, and his first (and only) official act as "Principal" of the school was to announce in a loud, clear voice: "I hereby declare today a school holiday!"

Knowing Miss Gilbert, the real principal, it was no surprise to me that she laughed as hard as anybody else . . . and said to go right ahead.

From where I sit, it's no wonder our youngsters think Miss Gilbert's such a wonderful person (even though they know they'll have to make up that day). Her tolerance, her friendly way with people of all ages reflect in everything she does. For instance, at my house Miss Gilbert prefers tea but always respects my preference for a glass of beer. As a real person . . . in any community, Miss Gilbert belongs at "the head of the class."

Benson Tells Stockman Supports Will Be Unworkable

Washington, Oct. 27.—Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson declared Tuesday night after a conference with angry cattlemen that he still has not seen "a practical, workable plan" for cattle price supports.

The secretary told a news conference that he found many of the cattlemen unfamiliar with aid new being offered their industry by the Agriculture Department.

Benson said, also, that some members of the delegation were not representative of the livestockm industry.

A 22-man committee, representing a 350-man caravan of farmers and ranchers, demanded that Benson impose immediate price supports on cattle.

After the conference, the entire caravan vowed to continue its fight for supports, including possibly a request to President Eeisenhower to call a special session of Congress.

Benson reported, however, that "the president seemed very highly pleased" when his national advisory commission voted unanimously against price supports for live cattle. The commission reported to Eisenhower Saturday.

Speaking of Tuesday's meeting with the livestock group, Benson said:

"They didn't present a plan. They just said put supports under cattle. I'll never support a program that is not in the interest of farmers."

The secretary said he would like to see a sound plan to aid the cattle industry, but that he did not get one Tuesday. He described his current program to help the industry as "workable, feasible and practical."

Benson said his mail is running heavily in opposition to cattle price supports.

The secretary quoted current stock figures to show that livestock prices are going up across the nation. He also said that Eisenhower is "deeply concerned" with the problem.

After Benson told the cattlemen the program they want is "unworkable and impractible" a spokesman for the group declared "I don't think there is any more that can be accomplished here."

But the cattlemen refused to quit. They cheered widly when their leader, Dennis Driscoll of Colorado Springs, declared he would "absolutely" favor a special session of Congress unless Benson acts quickly.

TWO COLLISIONS—

Ford pickup, pulled out of a Milano service station, was also heading west on U. S. 79.

Wilson applied his brakes to prevent ramming the pickup in the rear. His brakes apparently locked with the Oldsmobile spinning around. The patrolman reported that the pickup hit the car on the right side, causing heavy damage to both behicles.

There were no injuries.

The second accident occurred three miles east of Thorndale on U. S. 79, about 12:50 Sunday morning.

It was reported by the investigating patrolman that John J. Jones, III, of Georgetown, and a Texas A&M student, driving a 1950 Chevrolet, was side swiped on Little Brushy Creek bridge by Jose H. Martinez of Chriesman, who was driving a 1951 Ford pickup.

Jones was driving west, and Martinez was traveling east on U. S. 79.

After being hit, the Jones' car skidded about 180 feet, went off the left side of the road on a 10-foot bank, and dropped into three feet of water. The Martinez pickup skidded about 180 feet and went off the left side of the road into a fence.

Martinez was injured, receiving a crushed left elbow. He was treated at Richard's Clinic in Rockdale. A passenger in the Martinez pickup, Balartin Martinez, received facial injuries.

Jones and Miss Geramine Honeycutt of Georgetown, and a Baylor student were not injured Miss Honeycutt was a passenger in the Jones' car.

Girl Scouts Receive Twenty-Four Percent Community Chest Funds

Robert D. Abel

When you give to the Cameron Community Chest—24% of your donations goes to the Girl Scouts. This organization presents character building activities for girls from the age of 7 to 8. Its primary aim is to develop leadership and physical and moral qualities in its young members.

Girl Scouts learn initiative, self-reliance and unselfish service to others. The purpose of the organization is to help prepare girls for their responsibilities in the home, and for service to the community.

Excellent camping facilities are maintained at the Girl Scouts Colorado Council at the Lake Travis near Austin. Troops who are members of this council are given a special rate for girls attending the camp during the summer.

In Cameron there are 3 Girl Scout Troops and 4 Brownie troops, sponsoring scout work for 103 girls.

Each year a day camp is held at Wilson Ledbetter Park in the Girl Scout Hut. Here for three days, local girl scouts attend-organized classes in scout work. The $2.00 charge for attending camp must be supplemented by your donations since it is insufficient to cover the cost of this fine project.

You are shaping the lives of the future wives and mothers of Cameron when you give to the Girl Scouts through the Cameron Community Chest. Please give enough.
